

Hose Band Connector

Stainless steel (SS) hose band connectors. These are metal hose band connectors made of stainless steel, used for securing hoses to fittings, pipes, or other components. The stainless steel material is resistant to corrosion, making it suitable for various applications, including automotive, plumbing, and industrial uses. Can be used in sea water applications.

Applications:

- Automotive: Securing hoses in engines or exhaust systems.
- Plumbing: Attaching hoses to plumbing fixtures.
- Industrial: Used in machinery where secure hose connections are essential.
